What is Going on at Pleasant Retreat.

Pleasant Retreat, Ga., Jan. 24.
ED. NUGGET:

A few items from this place may interest some of your readers, we venture some thoughts as they occur to our mind, in the hope that should they find no space in your columns, there may be ample room in the waste basket.

Some of your readers, perhaps, do not know where Pleasant Retreat is, the character of its citizens, their environments, &c. The place is situated between two rivers—Tennessee and Chestatee, in the western border of White county, and embraces the celebrated Loud Mines. The Reeves mine under the supervision of W. H. Courtney is yielding fair returns. We have one store, one saw mill, one grist mill, two churches and one public school. The school is taught by Mr. Joseph Stover, a model young man. We also have a cattle ranch (in embryo) so you see while most of our citizens are poor none of them are paupers nor beggars that we know; but on the contrary as a general rule they are industrious, sober and peaceable, and the moral status will compare favorably with any of the rural districts in North East Georgia. We have seen but one drunk man in three months, though they tell us that most of them, and some among the best take a little today for their infirmities and their stomachs sake. A few will swear a little without being asked to, but are clever without. We have no Mayor and council, marshal or bailiff, neither do we need any, as we have no blind tigers and no midnight disturbances. We have no room for idlers, but the voice of the ploughman and the sound of the axe, the plow and the shovel, are heard from morning till night, thus cometh sleep and refreshment as a natural consequence. We would further state that the post office is located here, where mail is received and delivered three times a week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The mills, stores and farm, of which we have spoken are owned and operated by W. H. Courtney, who employs a great many hands from time to time at liberal wages. We might make honorable mention of others in this connection but desist for fear of intruding upon space.

Two of our young men, Moody Corbin and Wm. Etres, Jr., made up their minds to cross the Father of waters, in search of a better situation, the latter, we understand, has decided to stay at home, the former will probably leave in a few days, but of these and other matters, we may have something to say later if time and space be given us.

Lost Opportunities.

To every man, woman and child, there is a time when opportunities present themselves, which are not properly employed. And by neglecting such opportunities, it works detrimentally to their best interest, and to the downfall of those with whom they associate.

While on the other hand, if those opportunities have been embraced with determination of purpose, its tendency would be to elevate one's self, and to make better and happier all with whom they come in contact.

The sad regret of many who are living now, when they come to their journey's end, will be the reflection of what might have been accomplished if every opportunity to do good had been embraced. The opportunities of parents in educating, and training their children, are left unimproved to a great extent and are resulting in the down fall of their children and bringing sorrow to themselves.

Opportunities are neglected and despised by professing of religion, and are doing more against the cause of Christ, and the overthrow of Christianity and the encouragement of sin, than almost any vice that can be imagined. Neglected opportunities are breaking many hearts. While at the same time, it is filling our prisons, and crowding our courts, and bringing sons and daughters, and fellow creatures to degradation and shame.

Let us consider the tears and anxieties of mothers for their wayward children, which might be relieved by them embracing opportunities to do good.

The tears that might be dried, the hearts that might be comforted; the hungry that might be fed, the despondent that might be cheered, and the millions of lost souls that might be brought to the glorious light of the gospel of Christ, by the improvement of opportunities are now in tears, hunger, despondency, and death, all on account of lost opportunities.

We would by embracing every opportunity, bring these blessings to others, and have the great consolation of being able to say at the end of our journey, "I have fought a good fight and have kept the faith henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day." SALLIE REID.

The New York jury that tried Martin Thorn for murder, cost the county $2,049.35. In thirteen days service they drank $356.14 worth of wine, an average of $27.45 per day, smoked $235.60 worth of cigars, average of $18.24 a day. Shaves, haircuts and shampoos, $40.65; clothes $15. billiards $52.40. My, my! In Georgia there would have been such a howl over such "providing for the comfort" of the jurors at that price, that there would have been indignation, and the judge who allowed it would have been mobbed. Under Georgia laws, telephones and wires used by the jurors would have been good grounds for a new trial.

There are many accidents to live stock which cause delay and loss to the farmer in his work. In a large number of instances the delay would be but trifling if a remedy was promptly applied. Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment has for many years been regarded as the farmer's friend. Its healing influence on the flesh of domestic animals is immediate and permanent. Price 25c, 50¢ and $1.00 a bottle. At Moore & McGuire's.

DRY'S PILE SUPPOSITORY. A guaranteed to cure Piles and Conipation or money refunded. 50 cts. per box. Send for circular and Free Sample to MARTIN DRUG CO., 100 Nassau Street, New York. For sale by all first class druggists everywhere and in Dahlonega Ga. by E.C. Cartledge.

The Young Mother.

It is hard for a young mother, who has not yet overcome the wayward tendencies of her own youthful nature, to realize the influence she exerts over her little ones. She is constantly surrounded by critical imitators, who copy her morals and manners. As the mother is, so are her sons and daughters. If a family of children are blessed with an intelligent mother who is dainty and refined in her manners, and does not consider it necessary to be one woman in the drawing room and an entirely different person in her everyday life, but who is a true mother, and at ways a charming tender woman, you will invariably see habits of speech and perfect manners repeated in her children. Great, rough men and noisy boys will always tone down their voices and stop quietly, and try to be more mannerly when she stops to give them a kind word and a pleasant smile; for a true woman will never fail to say or do all the kind pleasant things that will in any way help to lift up and cheer those whose lives are shaded with care and toil. The mother of today rules the world of tomorrow.

Fun at Court.

One of the criminal court rooms in city hall consists of three rooms in telescopic succession, with a door leading from one to the other. Jurymen sit in the front room, but parties and witnesses are sent to the back room till called.

A jurymen named O'Brien was sitting in the front room when a tipstaff went up to him and asked him if he was a jurymen. Misunderstanding the word jurymen for German, he said, "No; I am an Irishman," and was told to go into the back room. The erier of the court called him several times during the day, but he didn't hear the call, and when told he was in default he told the above story as his excuse.—Philadelphia Record.

A Noted Dog Fancier.

The Countess of Warwick is a noted dog fancier—indeed her dogs are said to be better known in some circles than she is herself. She has the finest Japanese spaniels in Europe, and they accompany her whenever she goes from one of her houses to the other. They occupy six baskets and monopolize six shawls in their mistress' dressing room, and they are each and all as devoted to their beautiful mistress as she is to them.

An exchange says: "How easy it is to smother a spider. Like a spotless lily, growing in its quiet retreat, receiving sunshine and shower is rendered unsightly by the rude touch of a thing passed by, so is that of the character of everyone. Some hands know not how to touch them but to destroy, and some tongues know not how to speak of them but to defile. These hands today offer gifts, but tomorrow they wield a dagger. These tongues may whisper peace today, but tomorrow they speak forth words of war and despair.

The breath of such people is tainted with treachery and treason, and beware of them, for lo! they do stroy you, marrow and bone."

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm is an unfailing remedy for all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys and Urinary Organs. It is a certain cure for Dropsey, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Gravel, Kidney Weakness, Incontinence of Urine, Bed Wetting in Children, Biliousness, Liver Complaint and Female Troubles. A trial of this great remedy will convince you of its potency. Price $0.00 a bottle. At Moore & McGuire's.

Two Months in an Open Boat.

Out of the party of twenty-two Samoans who left Tutuila Island in a large boat late in September, one half perished miserably from exposure, while the survivors were cast away on the Island of Namaul, the northeasternmost island of the Ellice group, from whence they were finally taken by the mission yacht John Williams more dead than alive.

The Australian mail advises brought by the steamer Mariposa state that the Samoans had set out for two neighboring islands, some sixty miles distant, but were overtaken by a gale which blew them out of their course, and for sixty days they drifted helplessly at the mercy of the waves.

Nine of the party died in the boat one was killed in landing at Namaul Island, 900 miles from the port they left, and some collapsed on reaching shore, leaving only eight survivors.

They ate up the little food they had, but suffered less for want of water, as they were able to spread sails to catch the rain, which fell heavily. Thus they stored up in some trade boxes they had on board. The island they eventually reached is inhabited, and the people took all possible care of them, but they were in a very low condition when the steamer picked them up. The survivors have since been returned to their homes.

Newspaper and Other Advertising.

The News, of Gadsden, Ala., has been doing a little problem in arithmetic for the benefit of its advertisers, and, incidentally for those who do not advertise, and the result is interesting.

"A newspaper," it says, "has 5,000 readers for each 1,000 subscribers. A merchant who puts out 1,000 hand bills gets possibly 300 or 500 to read them—that is, if the boy who is trusted to deliver them does not put them under the sidewalk. All the women and girls and half the men and boys read the daily and the men and boys read the weekly."

The merchants and business men of Dahlonega will do well to bear the above facts in mind.

All Sorts of Tricks.

"Oh, I guess we have our experiences," laughed the fire insurance agent. "We are just like others who have to deal with all kinds of people.

"Take the smart Alecks, for instance. They give us a while once in awhile, but we generally manage to get as good as a draw with them."

"One shrewd old chap had grown rich out of our company, and when he had built an elegant new store and stocked it with goods he came to us again for insurance. I refused him, but he was persistent and I finally assented on condition that he hang a gross of hand grenades in the place. After I had seen them properly distributed I sent an old chum of his up to get the real lay of the land, for I was still suspicious. This is what the cronies said to each other:

"What is them things, Ike?"
"Hand grenades."
"What's hand grenades?"
"I don't know what was in 'em at first, but they're full of kerosene oil now."
"We canceled the policy."—Detroit Free Press.

An Uncertain Disease.

There is no disease more uncertain in its nature than dyspepsia. Physicians say it is the symptom of a thousand diseases. It is therefore most difficult to make a correct diagnosis. No matter how severe, or under what circumstances it occurs, you, Brown's Iron Bitters will cure it. It relieves the distresses of the stomach, blood and nerves. Brown's Iron Bitters is sold by all dealers.

THE NUGGET

DALHONEGA, GA., FEB. 4, 1898.

Sheriff sales elsewhere.

Mrs. Robert Howell has been quite sick for several days.

Councilman Jap Williams visited Dahlonega first of the week.

The kite fever is raging among the small fry boys of Dahlonega.

The cold wave even caused the wood haulers to have to suspend business.

Rev. Hubert Smith and lady of LaGrange after spending a day or so in Dahlonega this week have returned to their home.

If you want to say anything about your friend who is a candidate send it in, we will only charge you five cents per line. We don't mean to say that we charge it but that is what we have.

When you steal our wood please don't take that which is chopped. The one that stole our axe last week has failed to return it, and we dislike to furnish the wood and hire it chopped up for thieves.

L. W. Cochran, who has been running a beef market here for quite awhile is going to move to Randa and run a store out there, while Mr. Satterfield who has been doing business there will devote his whole time to the farm.

An effort is being made to have a post office established in Cane Creek district on the Morganton route. There is no trouble to get it provided the proper person agrees to take charge of the office. It is right on the line and will cost the government nothing extra.

The spring term of the N. G. A. College begins next Monday morning and an unusually large attendance is expected as the boys have already been coming in to be ready on time. The college has an able corps of teachers and if a young man or young lady desires a thorough education here is the place to get it.

We have frequently been asked within the past few days since the death of the sub contractor of the Gainesville and Dahlonega daily mail, who would carry it now. His bondsmen see after that. We understand that Mrs. A. G. Wimpy and his son A. W. Meaders are on the bond and we suppose they will let the boys carry it as usual.

We mailed a letter to Atlanta on the morning of the 27th inst., and it reached its destination on the 1st day of the present month. Then we received a reply to it the same day it was written. It looks like letters might be carried down grade faster than they are brought up but it seems to be right to the reverse in this case.

A little negro child died near town last Sunday morning awhile before day, but no one would dig the grave without pay and the ordinary had the work done after it had been dead nearly two days, besides furnishing means to put away the little one in a decent manner. Our colored people have never been guilty of neglecting a thing of this kind before.

The present town council proposes to make a change in the transaction of the towns business this year. The mayor does not propose to give an order to any certain merchant in town, but issue the order on the treasurer so that it can be used at any store should there be no money in the treasury. This will give better satisfaction and allow every merchant a portion of the trade.

Our city council could not do a better thing for the town than to appoint a night watchman from now until the last of March to keep a look out for fire. If the town is not able to have a watchman and a marshal both it would be well enough to have the marshal watch for fire at night and the citizens could keep an eye on violators of the law for him during the day. Remember all the fires we have had occurred at night.

Mr. Bud Sitton, of Dawsonville, was up on a visit to relatives in Dahlonega last week.

Suitable male members of a certain church in Davis' district were scarce so that a lady had to act steward up to a portion of last year.

The other day a ten-year old lad stepped up to a man and wanted to know if he had a drink of liquor to give him. His taste for liquor is coming to him pretty early.

Don't forget to register if you desire to cast your ballot in the public school election. Book closes on the 17th inst at night. Remember if you do not register you cannot vote.

Do you need any warranty deeds, mortgage deeds, J. P. fifas, notes, both mortgage and plain, mining leases, options, etc. Printed on good paper and almost as cheap as the blank paper itself.

The road commissioners of the Dahlonega district met in the court house last Saturday and apportioned the hands so as to be ready for business. They fitted up some roads with three hands while others of more importance were given thirteen.

Major W. P. Price passed his 63rd birthday last Saturday and was given a turkey dinner by his daughter Mrs. W. A. Charters. Col. Price is next to the oldest native citizen of Lumpkin county, Capt. W. H. McAfee being the oldest—65 years.

Remember that you must register in the presence of the clerk of the town council if you desire to vote in the school election, and not before the ordinary or tax collector. Registering before either of the latter does not entitle you to a vote in this election.

Cicero Rayan, of Chestatee district, had pretty bad luck last week. On the night of the 26th, a thief visited his smoke house and carried off two large hams and the following night the reverend officers called on him and told him he must come to town.

More than half a dozen of Aurora's citizens were in Dahlonega last Monday on special business, giving their district a pretty fair representation. The object of N. C. Tann's visit was to purchase a couple of lots of land, which he got and went off rejoicing.

J. L. Watts now owns the old Gilbert Parker spirit level which it is said was used in surveying the Hand canal in this county during 1858. At that time they were not supplied with suitable surveying instruments like we have now and therefore had to use this kind of an outfit for the purpose.

We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Pass, mother of Mrs. A. F. Stow, of Dahlonega who died in Hall county last week at the age of 81. Mrs. Pass fell some two months ago caused by paralysis and received such injuries as to render her unable to walk any more.

Quarterly meeting was held here this week at Presiding Elder Cook delivered a most excellent sermon last Sunday night. Mr. Cook never fails to have a large congregation when he preaches as he is fully able to tell something interesting in the cause of religion.

Taylor Wimpy, who went from Lumpkin county to Texas some years ago to better his condition, is succeeding pretty well. He writes back that 147 persons are admitted at his house Monday after Christmas. The average farmer in Georgia cannot afford to entertain his friends in such large numbers.

We notice that some young men are the habit of teasing little boys in order to hear them curse. The other day more than a dozen surrounded a little fellow near the M. E. Church and had him vexed so that he could be heard swearing for some distance. This is shameful "amusement" for young men to be guilty of and should be stopped.

T. S. Waters left for Gainesville last Wednesday where he goes to accept a position in Palmetto Bros. store.

Col. Charters went down to Gainesville last Tuesday immediately after the sheriff's sale were over.

Mr. Horace Long, of Nelson, was here this week putting up some marble mantles for Mr. H. D. Gurley.

Miss Elietha Griggs, who has been attending college here for some time, left for her home in Florida yesterday morning.

We are informed that Frank Rider, who left Dahlonega some time ago, got one of his hands crushed off recently by a mill at Costa Rica, Central America.

The ordinary on last Tuesday appointed Mr. A. W. Cain county surveyor to fill the unexpired term of James C. Bryan, resigned. Mr. Cain has made bond and is ready to enter upon the discharge of his official duty when a surveyor is wanted.

Some fellow was in Dahlonega the other day telling about a mechanic finding several thousand dollars in Gainesville recently while tearing down an old house. We expect he had been troubled with nightmare as we have heard no one else speak about such a discovery.

But few people attended the sheriff's sales last Tuesday and the property disposed of went low. The property of David Nicholls and that of the Chestatee Co. were all that sold, which were bid off by Col. Charters for Capt. Hall. The claims against the other advertised property were all settled off.

Mrs. Belle Sutton Cobb, of El Cajon, died at Dr. Holmes' sanitarium in Atlanta last Friday after undergoing an operation. The deceased was the wife of Mr. J. P. P. Cobb, Jr., and the daughter of Mr. Sutton who used to edit the Dahlonega Signal. Mrs. Cobb has a large circle of friends in our city who regret to learn of her sad demise.

A forerunner of the weather brigade arrived in Dahlonega late in the afternoon of Tuesday announcing that the rest of the corps would be in the following day with a full supply of cold weather. Sure enough it arrived promptly on time the next day with a line of samples rarely seen in this country, crowding out Mr. Pleasant Weather until nothing could be seen of him except the top of his hat that night in the lower end of the thermometer number 11. Next morning all the steam whistles at the mining boats and stamp mills failed to blow and mining operations were caused to suspend for a day or so in honor of the appearance in our town of Mr. Cold Wave. On Wednesday night he lowered his head down to go for the first time this winter.

Jess Turner, who lives in the outskirts of Dahlonega happened to a frightful accident last Sunday night this side of the Yahoola bridge while under the influence of Chestatee district tonic. He was returning from that country mounted on Al Robert's fine steed. While riding along the road swinging his head and body to first one side of the horse and then the other, mentioning both hands as if endeavoring to "turn" a squirrel in a tree like hunting do while in search of game, the liquor in him caused a swimming in the head and off he went, banging one foot in the stirrup which caused his horse to rear, carrying the rider with it. This sudden "down fall" alarmed Turner to such an extent that it caused him to yell that he was dead. The parties who rode behind in a buggy carrying the stimulants were soon at Jess's side bathing his forehead with the refreshments, which restored his life at the first scent of it. A little of the liquid was rubbed on the patient's lips, who was soon up and on the uninjured animal headed towards his home, forgetting all about the fall.

We notice that some young men are the habit of teasing little boys in order to hear them curse. The other day more than a dozen surrounded a little fellow near the M. E. Church and had him vexed so that he could be heard swearing for some distance. This is shameful "amusement" for young men to be guilty of and should be stopped.

Don't forget the veterans meeting in Dahlonega the 19th.

Mrs. Bird is off on a visit to her daughter in Tennessee for the purpose of spending a few weeks.

The public school teachers of Lumpkin county were made to receive last week on account of receiving their money from the state amounting to more than a thousand dollars.

Just after breakfast last Monday morning a gentleman stepped into the office and handed us a silver wheel for the NUGGET. We never refuse to take this kind of desert for it keep peace and plenty in the family.

The first snow of the season fell here last Sunday covering the ground about three-fourths of an inch deep, which brought about much enjoyment, as we noticed old women out snow balling that didn't have a tooth in their heads.

Dr. Chapman has been a leading citizen of Dahlonega for a long time, was elected one of the members of the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College more than 25 years ago, and was always ready to do anything in his power for the advancement of this institution, never missing a single session of the board while in town. Had been a member of the Baptist church for many long years and his presence will be greatly missed by the members, for he was always on hand at Sunday school and preaching.

Thus the town has lost a good citizen, the church a faithful member and the college one of its best friends.

We greatly sympathize with his wife, sons and daughters in the loss of such a kind and loving relative.

For some time past certain young people have frequently been gathering at an old house at the Ivey mine and passing off the time in frolicing. Bright and early the other morning some one who had doubtless become tired of so much fun touched a torch to the building which would have been destroyed had it not received the attention of parties living close by.

We understand that Will Childers, who left Dahlonega several years ago for Honduras, has reached America's soil once more. Will went out there and wedded a native and came back to his home country leaving wife and children to get along the best they can. But one man went away from here leaving his family the same way and we guess Will thought that this fellow's example would do to go as he doubted him in years.

Complaint has already been made that some of the public school teachers of this county have been in the habit of kissing certain people's children every morning when first entering the school room. This part of the program will have to be dispensed with unless the teacher can kiss all the pupils, otherwise it will cause parents whose children do not belong to the kissing brigade to become of less more preferable any way as there is no trouble about young people learning the art of kissing in due time.

It is stated by M. W. Crisson, who returned home last week, that Silas Gayden who left Lumpkin county and went to Tennessee for the purpose of mining, disappeared in a very mysterious manner some months ago. He had a number of hands and was successfully operating a mine on "his own hook." Had plenty of money to run his business and owed no one. One morning he didn't appear at the mine at the customary time. After the elapse of some time one of the hands went to his boarding house to see if he was sick. But he was not there nor hadn't been during the night. No where could he be found or even heard of him from that day to this. It is believed by the citizens there that he was murdered for his money and then hid. Mr. Gayden's wife was soon up and on the uninjured animal headed towards his home, forgetting all about the fall.

Col. J. H. Moore, and lady of Canton, arrived in the city last week and are at their same old quarters—Park Street Inn.

Death of Dr. B. F. Chapman.

A gloom of sorrow is cast over the entire community on account of the death of one of Dahlonega's leading citizens and physicians, Dr. B. F. Chapman, which occurred at his residence on Wednesday night at about 11 o'clock after an illness of less than a week, of pneumonia, at the age of 74.

Even up to last Thursday the Doctor had been out on the streets conversing with his friends as usual, and we understand, attended prayer meeting that night, and after arriving at home taken suddenly sick before day. All the physicians were sent for who did proceedings for Dahlonega the 19th.

At a meeting of the Town Council held this day, the mayor and a majority of the council being present, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it appears that the order and the notice of election called by the mayor and council on the 26th day of January, 1898, is, so far as the same relates to the election for the issuing of bonds, not in accordance with law;

Resolved, that said order for said election, so far as the same relates to the issuing of bonds, be and the same is hereby revoked, and that said election shall proceed only as to the question of establishing a system of public schools for Dahlonega.

Resolved, further, that the notice now being published for said election for public schools be published every week until the day of the election, eliminating that part of said notice which relates to bonds.

W. P. PRICE,
Mayor.

H. D. STRICKLAND,
Clerk.

Old Stills Wanted.

We learn that Col. W. P. Price is anxious to procure a few thousand pounds of old copper, that has heretofore been in use by moonshiners in the manufacture of whiskey. His object, he tells us, is to have these old copper stills conveyed to the foundry and converted into new and beautiful copper plates with which to line the baptistry of the new Baptist church in Dahlonega. Several moonshiners have recently gone out of the business, promising Judge Newman that they will not engage any more in the unlawful manufacture of whiskey. It is Col. Price's wish that enough copper from this source may be procured to carry out the design mentioned.

His remains will be entered in the Dahlonega cemetery today by his Masonic brethren at 11 o'clock.

Too Poor to Talk.

Every time any thing is said about raising the property taxes in Dahlonega by a poor man he is told that it does not concern him as he is not in it. This is a mistake. The poorest man in town even if he does not own a single dollar's worth of property is deeply interested as he has heretofore had to help keep up the general expenses of the town. Last year street taxes would have only been two dollars for each one subject had it not been used for general purposes. For two or three years past a hand was not allowed to hire another man to work out his street taxes. He must either work himself, pay the money or give an order to some merchant that had a debt against the town. The law says that street tax must be used for such purposes. Is it right to continually keep up the street tax when it is used for other purposes? For instance last year there were $481.40 of street taxes used in one way and another when we don't suppose there were exceeding $250 spent on the roads. What about with the rest? Used for the general expenses of the town. Make a man that doesn't own a dollar in the world help pay property taxes? Some worked their street taxes out on the public wells, some on the cemetery, others paid it in police duty, one man watched to see if people fastened the cemetery gate in passing in and out, while numbers of persons had the town credited with their so-called street taxes at different stores. And then say that the poor men must utter a word when it comes to raising taxes. The street taxes should be kept separate and used for no other purpose. We have been told that barbers have paid their street taxes in shaving, shampooing and cutting marshals hair. Suppose every man could trim hair and the town marshal say, "I warn you to cut my hair tomorrow morning at 6 a.m." and he was to refuse to do it, could the street hand be punished for not obeying?

I. C. Head, of Olney, Ill., who has been spending several weeks here among his relatives and friends in his native county, returns to his home this week.

All the unreturned wild lands in Lumpkin county should be looked up and sold. One who is in a position to know, told us the other day that there were at least 250 unreturned lots in the county.

There is not a single lot of land that has to be advertised for last year's taxes. This is something unusual and shows that our country is in a more prosperous condition than it has been since the war.

A gentleman was telling us the other day that a man (naming him) out lent five men some time ago at one of the stamp mills with a hand stick. And now that man is endeavoring to draw a pension under the indigent act.

J. M. Berry, of Randa paid us a profitable visit last Tuesday. He went to go to college here sixteen years ago. After leaving Dahlonega he went West but not finding any place to suit him as well as Lumpkin returned to spend the rest of his days on her red hills.

Some weeks ago C. W. Dotson, a farmer residing near Dahlonega, went off to Monroe and Athens with a load of produce together with a barrel of croat which he sold in Athens for two cents per pound. It is a considerable distance to haul a barrel of croat but the tiller of the soil has to bustle in order to supply the people as it is a true saying "that the farmer feeds 'em all."

This paper announces, in connection with The Atlanta Weekly Constitution, a new offer in which everyone may have a chance to supply the missing word in this sentence:

"AT FIRST IT WAS CONSIDERED BY THE [REDACTED] AS A GOOD OMEN."

The sentence is taken from a well-known publication. The word is a familiar one, and it may readily suggest itself.

Contest Began Jan. 1—Ends March 1, '98

TO ENTER THIS CONTEST YOU MUST SUBSCRIBE FOR

THE DAHLONEGA NUGGET,

AT THE EXTREMELY
LOW PRICE OF $1.75

In connection with this Clubbing Rate, we will, if you send your guess with the subscription price, forward all for you and thus
GIVE YOU A CHANCE AT THE MISSING WORD FUND

At the end of period covered by this contest, The Constitution will pay out to the successful party or parties the full prize amount that has accrued in the contest. The plan is simple and these contests have become so popular and have been so successful that they have been copied after, but none have become equal to The Constitution in its originality and success.

IN ONE YEAR THE CONSTITUTION HAS PAID OUT
NEARLY $6,000 IN CASH

In these missing word contests, it sets aside 10 per cent of the subscription fund received from subscribers guessing at the missing word, and this is given to the successful guesser or guessers in the contest. The fund is distributed with absolute fairness among the winners.

The Atlanta Constitution has MORE THAN 15,000 subscribers and that it pays out cash to the winners.

The Constitution has paid out $6,000 in cash to the winners.

Points on Education.

Howland says: "The work of education is to enkindle and instruct, not to quench and repress, a large faith, a great hope; a faith in childhood, a hope and trust in earnest, faithful, well directed effort, an enduring love of the service, must be the essentials of the deserving teacher, the first elements of fitness for the schoolroom.

What business or profession calls for a deeper insight, wiser method, or more delicate and skillful treatment, or is more important to society than that of quickening the intellect, and developing and molding the character of those who, as men and women, are so soon to control all our interests? This school keeping of ours is not a make shift, a catch penny device, a means for tiding over an unsuccess- bar in our business career, a ready resort from the tedium of house-keeping, but a high calling,"

Could Not Afford To Give,

A man who attempted to raise some money on a subscription paper for a necessary church out West, relates his experience as follows:

"The first man I went to see was very sorry, but the fact was he was so involved in his business that he could not give anything. Very sorry, but a man in debt as he was owed his first duty to his creditors. He was smoking an expensive cigar, and before I left his store he bought of a peddler who came in a pair of expensive Rocky Mountain cuff buttons.

"The next man I went to see was a young clerk in a banking establishment. He read the paper over, acknowledged that the church was needed, but said he was owing for his board, was badly in debt, and did not see how he could give any thing. That afternoon as I went to the base-ball grounds, I saw this young man pay fifty cents at the gate and go in, and saw him mount the grand stand where special seats were sold for a quarter of a dollar.

"The third man to whom I presented the paper was a farmer living near the town. He also was sorry, but times were hard, his crops had been a partial failure, the mortgage on his farm was a heavy load, the interest was coming due, and he really could not see his way clear to give to the church, although it was just what the new town needed. A week from that time I saw that same farmer drive into town with his entire family and go to the circus, afternoon and night, at an expense of at least four dollars.

"The Bible says, 'Judge not, that ye be not judged; but it also says, "By their fruits ye shall know them." And I really could not help thinking that the devil could use that old excuse, 'In debt,' to splendid advantage, especially when he had a selfish man to help him." —The Youth's Companion

An Uncommon Disease.

There is no disease more uncertain in its nature than dyspepsia. Physicians say that the symptoms of no two cases agree. It is therefore most difficult to make a correct diagnosis. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam cures dyspepsia, strengthens the bowels, relieves flatulencies, etc. It helps women bear strong healthy children.

MCLEAN'S
Wine of Cardui.

Has a slow though Jennings to thousands of homes barren for years. A few doses often brings joy to loving hearts. No woman should neglect to try it for this trouble. It cures nine cases out of ten. All druggists sell Wine of Cardui. $1.00 per bottle.

A SAD WARNING.

He Has Drank Deep, of the
Dregs and Cautionous
Young Men.

Editors Cherokee Scout:

I want to give some of my experiences in the whiskey traffic. Fourteen years ago I warned my first still, I think I was a man of good character and a fairly good property. Life looked hopeful. I had friends that I could trust and rely on.

The whiskey traffic is something like typhoid fever. I have suffered with it during these fourteen years.

I kept me down three months and got my muscle, and the doctors got my money, and left me a physical and mental wreck.

When I commenced the liquor business I promised my friends I would keep it down, but it got me down, and with all the manhood I possessed it left me in a worse condition than the fever; for it has weakened my will power and left me a total wreck—financially, physically and morally. I don't believe I can ever regain what I have lost in these years of misspent life.

I feel it my duty to warn those that would go in such a dangerous business, to take warning, not only by my career, but others who have followed the same business. I have quit—am done making the tarnacous stuff forever.

Very Respectfully,

I. N. TAYLOR.

The Best Love.

Home-love is the best love. The love that you are born so is the sweetest you will ever have on earth. You, who are so anxious to escape from the home-nest, pause a moment and remember that this is so. It is right that the hour should come when you, in your turn, should become a wife and a mother and give the best love to others; but that will be it.

Nobody—not a lover, not a husband—will ever be so tender or so true as your mother and father.

Never again, after strangers have broken the beautiful bond, will there be anything so sweet as the little circle of mother, father and children, where you were cherished, protected, praised and kept from harm. You may not know it now, but you will know it some day.

Whomsoever you marry will, after the lover-days are over and the honey moon has waned give you only what you deserve of love or sympathy—and usually much less, never more. You must watch and be wary, lest you lose that love which came in through the eyes because the one who looked thought you beautiful. But those who bore you, who loved you when you were the dreadfully little object, a small baby, and thought you exquisitely beautiful and wonderful—brilliant—they do not care for faces that are fairer and forms that are more graceful than yours. You are their very own, and so better to them always than others.

In life's race a man runs better if he has a woman to set the pace.

If the average woman could be born a widow she wouldn't get married.

If a man is thirty, he suffers less from love than he does from rheumatism.

A woman never feels so import- ant as when she goes to buy her first baby carriage.

A man always boasts about what coffee he can make, unless his wife is around.

The main reason why women

don't like flats is because there's no garret to save up trash in.

When a woman has fully made up her mind about a thing she goes and asks a man's advice.

The woman who will scrupulously avoid a man she doesn't like will be a success.

THE NUGGET.

DALHONEGA, GA., FEB. 11, 1898.

The revenue made "flash" as the boys call it on their raid this week in the upper edge of the county. They can't expect to have good luck every time.

Merchant Asbury, of Clarkesville, was on a visit to Dahlonega this week. Henry used to go to college at Dahlonega and had a lot of old friends here that were glad to meet him.

A protracted meeting is now in progress at Pisgah church in Chester district conducted by Revs. Meshburn Ash, and his brother Wesley who is over on a visit from North Carolina.

One day last week Jess Turner while engaged in mining near the Hand mill fell into a hole where a stump had rotted and had to be dug out by the other hands who happened to be near him.

If those who are cursing the revenue officials and reporters in this country wish to get rid of these men let them quit making and drinking liquor. This will soon put an end to their career.

Our citizens are registering very slowly and don't seem to be very much interested in the public school question which comes up for their decision on the 28th. Less than fifty have registered and our mail will soon be out.

Ruff Bruce, after remaining here only a few days became dissatisfied and returned to Perry, Okla., from which place he had left only a few weeks ago with the intention of making Georgia his future home but he decided that the West suited him best.

Mr. John Findley, of Gainesville, will be here a few days for the purpose of taking photographs upon short notice. We have examined some of his work and pronounced it good. He is filling a long felt want—making pretty pictures for ugly persons. Now's your opportunity.

G. D. Bruce has rented Judge Brittain's dwelling just across the street from the NUGGET office. Lou is a fiddler and we are glad that he is moving so close to us. He will furnish instrumental music while we will endeavor to keep up the vocal department—all free of charge especially to our friends more particularly to the ladies.

Havlie Perdew has made application for the postmastership at Jay, but we do not know whether he will get his application to the department in time as the present post-master, Mr. Rider, was notified that the office would be discontinued in a certain number of days if no one applied, some time ago.

County School Commissioner Seabolt finished his rounds over the county visiting the public schools a few days ago and reports very good progress among most of them. There are now only 29 schools in the county since six had to suspend on account of not having the number of scholars—fifteen—as required by the board.

Widows pensions are being paid in other counties and it will come Lumpkin's time about next week. They are paid off alphabetically and these poor women who are needing money think it takes a long time for them to get down to "L." Those in Bibb county were paid off Tuesday last. Be patient. It will not be long until you get yours.

It seems that most of the ministers in Lumpkin county are after the tax receivers office. Already we have heard of the following ministers that have a notion of making the race so as to see which one is the most popular, to wit: Revs. C. W. Sturges, Taylor Doudy, Meshburn Ash and J. C. Higgins. This will probably cause the rest of their ministerial brethren to jump on the political track and all take a ride.

Mrs. William Cavender has been quite sick this week.

The council is laying the mud hole near the Methodist church filled in with rocks.

We are making some new additions to our job department this week which enables us to turn out first class work upon short notice at prices to suit the times.

Remember that the registration book for the town of Dahlonega closes next Thursday night and if you fail to register you will not be allowed to vote in the school election which comes off the 28th inst.

Last week while the weather was so cold and all the mines froze up old tangle legs made his appearance in town and caused many of the boys to feel happy and rich while they were idle and making nothing.

A change in the Dahlonega and Gainesville daily mail will likely take place shortly which will enable us to get our mail more promptly.

Mr. A. W. Meaders, one of the bondsmen of the sub-contractor, deceased, is working to this end. Since putting the fore going in type John Hatfield has purchased a half interest in the line and we may now expect our mail from the city below more promptly.

L. W. Cochran closed out his business at Dahlonega this week and moved out to Rosetta where he will enjoy the voice of the ploughman during the day and the hoot owl of a night. Mr. Cochran has been a resident of Dahlonega for a number of years and during the whole time never made enough noise to disturb a single soul. He is a quiet citizen who never makes any racketts and is a citizen that we hated to give up.

The Methodist church was full of people last Sunday night attending the temperance meeting. If all who attend these meetings would join the society and stick to their obligation a drunken man in Dahlonega would soon be a thing of the past. But there are too many who just go to see and be seen, and some merely join it for outside appearance, maybe for the purpose of deceiving some old man's girl—make her think that he is strictly temperate in order to win her affections. This the girl finds out, but very often when it is too late.

Just as we predicted last week, The spring term of the N. G. A. College opened out last Monday morning with a better attendance than has been for years. The president and professors are devoting their whole time in instructing those who have come here for the purpose of receiving a collegiate education, and if they fail to enlighten any boy or girl in their studies it is the fault of the pupil and not the teacher. Each professor has the interests of the institution at heart and will continue to build it up until it will soon become one of the leading colleges in the south.

On our first page will be found a letter written by a moonshiner, clipped from the Cherokee Scout which should be read by every one who is engaged in the business in this as well as all other counties. He has discovered his mistake when it is too late to do him any good but sounds the note of warning to others. Point out the man that has ever made any money at the business in Lumpkin county and we will name you twenty five that cannot afford a decent suit of clothes. Besides others who used to apparently be earning money making and selling whisky have to look to the state for aid so as to drive hunger from their doors. Occasionally you find a man that quits before it is too late. Last week we saw a certain person in town who used to make liquor on Sundays and all other days. He spent his time either in the still house or in Fulton county jail. Several years ago he decided to quit it, and today he is an official member of the church and a happy prosperous farmer.

The colored school in Dahlonega didn't open until last Monday.

Mr. Donaldson, the white bar has moved his shop in a room at the Besser House.

The material is now being received for the addition of ten more stamps at the Singleton mill.

One store was closed last Tuesday as the corpse of a poor man was being carried through town from the church to the cemetery, and that was Mogin & McGuire.

Street and property taxes will be the same as last year. The council will use every effort possible to make some improvements on the streets this year and come out even in the end.

The committee which has been appointed to get up the plans and specifications of the dormitory to the college, as well as the cost of the same, will soon be ready to make its report to the board of trustees.

There will be no extra tax levied for the expenses of a night watchman by the town council but the marshal has received instructions to sit up nights and watch for fire until the road working season sets in.

Bill Scott was in town last Tuesday and said that the cause of so many citizens moving away from Davis' district was on account of the approach of the stock law. They are unwilling to try to make a living in this mountain section under this law.

One night last week the door of the school house where James Lance teaches, in the upper edge of Yohoohoo district, was bursted in, a shade tree cut down and all the rest deadened. Three lads, James Newt and Barn Walker are accused of being the guilty parties.

Mr. E. E. Crisson is quite sick just at this time. He had been unwell for some days last week but had recovered sufficiently to enable him to attend Sunday School last Sabbath. This exposure in the cold caused a relapse and he is now much worse than he was at the start.

John Sitterfield, who was sent from this county to the chain gang at the last term of Lumpkin Superior Court, for an assault, is now sick and in the hospital in Atlanta. His father left last Wednesday morning with a petition signed by leading citizens, including Judge Kinsey, to present to the Governor asking that he be pardoned.

Last Monday Uncle Miles Wood was the happiest man in town. He had just returned from Union county where he had secured sufficient proof for him to get his $800 pension from the state.

The old man had on just enough to make him feel ten years younger, causing him to love every body and have a good word for those he met.

The people at Jay will have to get their mail at Dahlonega as soon as the post office is closed there, which will be very inconvenient to some. Jay once had a saw and grist mill beside a large tannery, store and quite a number of inhabitants, but all kinds of business is suspended, the people moved away, until this once prosperous place presents a lonesome appearance. We hope that business will revive again at Jay some time in the future and that she may become the same prosperous place that she was a number of years ago.

This week an official member of the colored Baptist church stepped into the office and requested us to advertise for a lost key to the church. We told him who had it without any cost. All such things as this goes to show that a country editor is useful to a town (as well as ornamental). But we received a request through the mail last Monday which we couldn't comply with, and that was for us to go around among the business or money men and get up $90 or $100 to send a lady and her child, residing near Dahlonega, to a relative in Arizona.

J. G. Townsend after being sick for some days is on the mend.

The only excuse a certain fellow had for not attending church the other day was that he had just taken a drink of liquor.

Jess Chatten, who was not expected to live a week or so ago is now rapidly recovering and will soon be out of danger.

The news has been going the rounds that W. J. Bart, the post master at Burtsboro, died last week. This will likely be news to Mr. Bart when he hears of it.

We understand that our tax collector proposes to make a final settlement first of next month. He would have been able to settle before then had the various bailiffs been prompt with their settlements.

Last Saturday morning the cold wave ended with a light snow. At noon the sun shone out and the earth soon had to give up its coat of white and by Sunday it was considerably warmer and more pleasant both under foot and overhead.

A cross mark on the margin of your paper to notify you that your subscription to the same has expired, and a long mark on the paper under a person's name is to show the postmaster handling such paper that there has been some irregularity about its delivery.

The editor of the Signal complains of having names on its book that haven't paid him a cent in two or three years. Strike them off from among your paying subscribers and transfer them to the dead docket like the Judge of the Superior Court does the names of defendants after the sheriff has been unable to arrest them. We don't want such names on our books and don't intend for them to accumulate in this way. They are no good to the newspaper fraternity. It requires money to "make the mare go."

We understand that a certain old soldier said the other night that he didn't like the NUGGET but was a subscriber to the Signal. Why? Because we were out of a subject one week last year and used his name which was connected with a certain trial in the mayor's court. But it turns out that he does not take the Signal nor any other paper. An able bodied poor man who never sees the sun of a morning until after 8 o'clock can neither benefit or injure the NUGGET unless he causes its editor to catch the sun grins from him and die with this lazy disease.

U. S. Deputy Collector Tom Trammell arrived in our town yesterday. Mr. Trammell used to go to college in Dahlonega and therefore is no stranger to her people. But his business at this time is to look after moonshiners and not an education. He has not been in office long and we understand that he will be located in our town. This is a good section to initiate a member in this department. By the time he travels over the Blue Ridge a few times through the rain, sleet and snow and sleep on the ground hungry and tired doubtless, he will wish that he could call back his boyhood days again enabling him to be a student of the N. G. A. College once more.

Most of the stamp mill houses in the neighborhood of Dahlonega are too open and cold for men to work in during the winter and keep their health. A little outlay of money would fix these buildings so men could work in them without making them sick. Laboring men who do not get sufficient wages to enable them to support their families and go warmly clad cannot stand such cold waves as that we have been having. All the sympathy that is given after a man gets sick is not worth a cent to a patient. If he gets well he has to allow his stomach with food and go back and try to make enough money to settle with the doctor so that he will not refuse to come the next time he gets down sick.

Mr. Lee Landrum's school in Martin's Ford district has been discontinued.

Last Sunday Mr. Homer Strickland was elected Secretary of the Methodist Sunday School.

Miss Edith Griggs didn't leave for home last week as she expected, but went off yesterday.

The weather has moderated and all the mining operations in this county have resumed operation.

Mrs. Dr. B. F. Chapman, who was down sick the day after her husband was buried, is recovering.

Raleigh Hightower, who is following the mercantile business in Gainesville, spent last Sunday in Dahlonega with the old folks at home.

In our account last week of the mysterious disappearance of Silas Gayden we had it as occurring in Tennessee when it should have been North Carolina.

John Hatfield can laugh louder and smile broader than any man in town now. It's a fine boy and made its appearance at 8 o'clock last Monday morning.

Mr. W. G. Spencer, the mechanician who has the contract for the construction of the water tank at the jail informed us last week that he would put it up during the present month,

The Ellijay and Porter Springs mail riders got their business a little mixed up at the Dahlonega post office last Friday, thus causing the Ellijay mail to be carried to Willow and the Porter Springs mail stuck at last accounts was headed towards Ellijay.

Those that have had business with Capt. Mayne, again have some hopes of his appearance in this country again, as a good deal of mail directed to him is being received at Gainesville. It is certainly taking him a long time to make the trip to and from London.

John Davis went out hunting this week and killed a crow, but the gun kicked him in the forehead and came near killing him. He held the gun in front of him and when fired the butt of the weapon struck him, leaving an ugly scar by which he can be recognized by strangers.

As soon as Dr. Jones, the Chairman of the Board of Education calls the members together enumerators will be selected to take the school census of the county. There will be quite a number of applicants. The law permits the County School Commissioner to do all the work himself if it is the wish of the Board, but we are unable to say what steps it will take until it convenes.

There is a married man in Lumpkin county who, it is said, sprinkles meat down around his door in the yard, at night, when he goes off so as to enable him to detect if his wife has any company in his absence. When he doesn't do this, he ties a sewing thread to the trees around the house to see if any one breaks it. This man should be put on the detective force in some city.

It seems that Lon Bruce has gotten enough of the world and intends to stay with us, as we heard of him being in Gainesville last week laying in his supplies, which gave some merchant a good trade as Lon is still the same picture of health that he was when he left this country and it takes a good deal of substantial food to keep him going, mixed with just a little mountain dew to make his machinery run.

On the 3rd inst. Capt. J. W. Woodward, editor of the Signal, reached his fifty-fifth notch, and on Sunday he gave his children and grand children—fifteen in all—a big dinner. It was certainly a day of pleasure with the Captain and he couldn't be made any happier unless some beautiful girl of sweet sixteen would agree to take his hand and be willing to share his troubles and happiness through the rest of life's journey.

The Funeral of Dr. Chapman.

Last Friday almost the entire business of Dahlonega was suspended, and the college closed her door and the students and hundreds of citizens attended the funeral services of Dr. B. F. Chapman whose sudden departure had caused such a shock in the entire community, the services were held in the new Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Mr. Parks, at which place the deceased had conducted the last prayer meeting. What a change had come about. Just one week previous Dr. Chapman who stood before a portion of the same congregation only a week previous, instructing them the proper way to heaven, was then in their presence a corpse. It can be truly said of Dr. Chapman that he was a Christian gentleman for his walks all through life proved it. He had been a member of the Baptist church for forty years and a teacher in the Sunday School twenty-five. Just before he died he requested the minister to read the 23rd Chapter of Psalms and when the reading was ended he closed his eyes and passed peacefully away.

The Dog Law in Dahlonega,

The dog question is about as hard a matter to settle in Dahlonega by the town council as the convict lease in the legislature was by our wise representatives. Dog laws after dog laws have been passed in Dahlonega by various councils and none of them seemed to amount to anything as they were not enforced (some of them couldn't be) and the money derived from this source never amounted to much. Some years ago an ordinance was passed making it a misdemeanor for a person to keep a dog in Dahlonega without paying a tax of fifty cents. This wouldn't work, for the owner who couldn't be hemmed up and out ran the marshal paid no tax, although the man's dog went where it pleased unmolested. The result was the marshal ran himself down and the ordinance was repealed and another one passed. This time to tax all dogs "running at large", first requiring them to be registered on the first of February of each year. Then the owners would give them to some one in the country until after first of February, similar to the acts of some men in this county in transferring their property for the purpose of securing a pension. In a short time all the curs were back in town with no dog funds in the treasury. Couldn't legally collect the taxes on them after the first day of February any more than you can collect state and county taxes on property coming into the possession of a man after the first day of April. Last Tuesday the present council made another change similar to an old law, requiring the owners of dogs to register them on or before the first day of March and that a tax of 50 cents be required on all dogs "within the corporate limits of Dahlonega" and $2 for each female dog. The charter of Dahlonega only gives the mayor and the council the right to tax "dogs running at large" within the corporate limits of the town." What are they going to do about this? The best way to do is to require all dogs to wear a 50 cent collar. Then when a dog is caught without a collar the marshal will know exactly what to do with it, besides all could see who pays the taxes.

Our adder may not be elegantly arranged, containing meat and syrup prices in one line and lace and ribbons in the next, but they are all bargains, you will find. For instance, good paper 3 1/2 c per quire, envelopes 2 c per pack; 4 quart coffee pot 11 c, roasted coffee 12 1/2 c, ink 4 c, turkeyred handkerchiefs 4 c, Misses hose 8 to 12 c, Hustler smoking tobacco 4 c, nylage 3 c, ear muffs 9. Come and examine our goods and prices if you buy nothing. We will be glad you come.

MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pain in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides, hips, and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer discomfort after menopause? Wine of Cardui relieves her. It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS
of Denville, Texas, says:
"I was suffering from pain with terrible pain in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."

DRUNKARD'S SERMON
It Was Addressed to Two
Gilded Youths Before a Saloon Bar.

It was growing late. The tide of George did not realize the fact that education was one of the main forces in the cause of Christianity; that the ignorant and unlearned, who could not read their Bibles, were at a great disadvantage in their efforts to serve God; that it was a religious duty to teach people to read, in order that they might be able to read the Bible.

An incident came under my own observation, when I was a child, illustrative of the views that Baptists held on this subject at that time. In the churchyard, at Hightower church in Cherokee county, Georgia, stands a tall, massive, marble shaft erected to the memory of a good Baptist mother in Israel," Mrs. Franklin the original owner of the celebrated Franklin gold mines, near Hightower church.

At the time of which I write she was widowed and her children grown up. She was a woman of superior mind, cultivated and refined; her Christian character was such that she was held in high esteem by all who knew her. Her mind was well balanced, and her opinion upon any subject had weight. She was one of the most faithful members of Hightower church; and when cases came up in conference hard to settle it was an unusual thing for the church to ask her opinion on the subject; something I never knew done in a Baptist church before or since; but her answer was always so sensible and so modestly and humbly given that it was never considered out of order, by that church, or created any comment.

"By Jove," said one, "think of having a thirst like that and not the price of an extinguisher in your pocket! Beats old Tantalus all to pieces, eh?" Liquor, liquor everywhere and not a drop to drink." He ran his hand in his pocket and proffered the tramp a dime, and before it could be accepted the other young fellow interposed. "Say," he said, "let's do the good Samaritan, and set Hobo up to a good drink."

The other hilariously consented and the tramp slouched into the saloon at the heels of the two gilded youths. The barkeeper set before them glasses and liquors, and with a hand that shook, the tramp poured out a brimming glass, and raised it to his lips "Stop," cried one of the young men drunkenly, "make us a speech. It is poor liquor that doesn't loosen a man's tongue."

The tramp hastily swallowed down the drink, and as the rich liquor coursed through his blood he straightened himself and stood before them with a grace and dignity that all his rags and dirt could not obscure.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I look tongue at you and at myself, and it seems to me I look upon the picture of my lost manhood. This shambling figure once walked as proudly as yours, a man in a world of his own, too, once had home, and friends and position. I had a wife as beautiful as an artist's dream, and I dropped the priceless pearl of her honor and respect in the wine-glass, and Cleopatra-like, saw it dissolve, and quaffed it down in the brimming draught. Thad children as sweet and lovely as the flowers of spring, and I saw them fade and die under the blighting curse of a drunken father, and now, when however love lit the flames upon the altar and ministered before it and I put out the holy fire, and darkness and desolation reigned in instead. I had aspiration and ambitions that soared as high as the morning star, and I broke and bruised their beautiful wings, and at last, strangled them that I might be tortured with their cries no more. Today I am a husband without a wife, a father without a child, a tramp with no home to call his own, a man in whom every good impulse is dead. All, all, swallowed up in the malediction of drink."

There are many accidents to live stock which cause delay and loss to the farmer in his work. In a large number of instances the delay would be but trifling if a remedy was promptly applied. Dr. J. H. McLean's Volatile Oil Liniment has for many years been regarded as the farmer's friend. Its healing influence on the flesh of even sick animals is immediate and permanent. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. At Moore & McGuire's.

A Wonderful Discovery. The last number of a century records many wonderful discoveries in medicine, but none that have accomplished more for humanity than that sterling old household remedy, PLANTER'S FEMALE REGULATOR. It contains the very elements of good health and neither man, woman or child can take it without deriving the greatest benefit. Brown Tree Bitter is sold in all dealers.

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, GA., FEB. 18, 1898.

Society that glitters most is not always gold.

Geo. Jenkins, after being off some time returned Tuesday.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders has moved into the house with Mrs. Nancy Wimpy.

Mrs. Dr. Whelchel has returned from an extended visit to relatives at Murrayville.

C. H. Hart, business manager of the Hall Mds. Co. spent a few days in Atlanta this week.

James Smith is now comfortable located in his new residence in the northern portion of the town.

Miss Lizzie Chapman had to suspend her school several days this week on account of being sick.

The widows pensions, eighteen in number for Lumpkin county were received by the ordinary this week.

The registration book for the town of Dahlonega closed yesterday. Up to 12 o'clock m. yesterday 78 voters had registered.

Boys and young men who have been in the habit of setting dogs after house cats and crippling them up should be punished.

Col. Price was quite unwell for several days this and last week, but is a good deal better and able to be out again a short while at a time.

A farmer residing in the western portion of the county whose name we did not learn, caught his son in Dahlonega last Sunday who was running away with a stranger.

Enoch Crane, who has been wanted here for some time for misdeemeanor, was judged by the Gwinnett authorities last week and was shown the way back by Sheriff Brookshier yesterday.

You will find at M. J. Williams & Co. mountain Irish potatoes at 80¢ per bushel, honey 10¢ per pound, white beans 2 c per pound, chickens 10 to 15 c, eggs 10 c per dozen, fine crout 2 c per pound.

The college boys are getting a hustle on them since Mr. H. D. Gurley has offered a gold medal to be given to the writer of the best essay, containing not less than 1,000 words nor more than 2,500.

Uncle Joe Duckett, of Porter Springs district, passed through town Sunday and seemed to be in good health. He weighs about 200 pounds and his beard and mustache are just as black as a crow.

Jack and John Loggins discovered another rich vein down on the Calhoun this week. A small rock from it pounded up in a mortar produced nine penny weights and eighteen grains of gold last Monday.

A few days ago Miss Eliza, daughter of A. S. Whelchel, of New Bridge, was married to Mr. —— Coleman, of Roanoke, Va. Mr. Coleman is the gentleman who constructed the new iron bridge across the river at that place.

Some of the anti stock law men of Dahlonega were very much stirred up the other day when they saw John Findley taking an observation at the court house through an instrument. They believed that he was running a line through the court house so as to give half of the building to Yahoola, the stock law district. But Mr. Findley informed them that he was only taking a picture of the court house with his kodak.

On Tuesday morning last Anna, the young wife of Mr. C. C. Sparks, breathed her last. She was about 32 years old and had long been married to Mr. Sparks about a year. She leaves a husband who is an honorable young working man and many kind friends to mourn her sad demise. Her infant babe having died and was buried in Mt. Hope cemetery last week. The Neogar deeply sympathizes with the bereaved in this, his sad hour of affliction.

Prof. Witherspoon made a short visit to Gainesville last week.

J. V. Harbison spent a few hours in Dawsonville last Monday.

Charlie Satterfield's happiness has been increased by the appearance of another fine boy at his house.

Last Monday was St. Valentine's day and several of the young ladies have one cent cartoons from their admirers.

All kinds of garden seeds at Moore & McGuire's, in bulk and packages. Also the genuine eastern seed potato.

Plows, plow stocks, rakes, hoes and everything the farmer and gardener needs will be found at Moore & McGuire's.

Prof. Yeates, state geologist, spent three or four days in Dahlonega this week attending to some unfinished work connected with his office.

Boys and youths winter clothing at Moore & McGuire's. Also a nice lot of boys and youths pants, at such low prices that it will astound you.

Tomorrow is the day set apart for the Lumpkin county veterans to meet in Dahlonega so as to make some arrangements to attend the big reunion which comes off in Atlanta in the near future.

Merchant McFee had a little business in the Justice Court of Yahoola district last Saturday. He lost his suit which made him return looking very unpleasant. He will carry the case to the Superior court in May.

Dahlonega has been pretty well represented at Dawsonville this week as Cols. Boyd, Lilly, Charters, Messrs. H. D. Gurley and several others all went down. Some of them went on official business while others desired to hear the first campaign speech of the season by Col. Howard Thompson.

House builders will find it to their interest to read an advertisement elsewhere over the signatures of a committee appointed by the board of trustees of the N. G. A. College, to receive bids for the construction of a dormitory on the college grounds. At a meeting of the board last Saturday it was decided to take this step, believing that it will be beneficial to this noble institution.

Wm. Seers, of Norcross, known as fighting Bill Seers, was in Dahlonega last week. He came talking and went off talking. The object of his visit was to bring an old man to see W. H. Satterfield and others in this county to have them certify that he was in the army in order to draw a pension. Satterfield said he couldn't remember of ever seeing the old fellow in the army. We do not know what the others said about it.

Thursday night of last week the colored Methodist church in Dahlonega was turned into a place of amusement and pleasure. Bro. Smith, of Gainesville, who has been occupying the pulpit most every night since Christmas to the annoyance of some of the neighbors, decided that the collections for his preaching were not bringing him in enough money and decided to have a supper and a baby show at the church so as to attract a crowd. When the hour arrived the night was most too damp to carry the little ones out. So the visitors had to make out with the supper and such amusements as might be gotten up by "Prof." Ed. Austin and others. The "Professor" was on hand wearing a stove pipe hat, with beautiful cane in his hand and clothes to match as special orator of the occasion, but the band composed of fiddles, guitars, and banjos, together with cake, chicken and many other good things were more attractive than Ed. and he didn't get to speak. It was interesting to see those "nig gars" eat potato pies and chicken. A piece of chicken or pie never had to be placed to their mouths but once. When it got up there it was gone. This pleased the minister for they cleaned up everything and he pocketed the money.

We have in our office a fine mountain potato given us by M. J. Williams which weighs one and three-fourth pounds having seven others connected to it from the size of a partridge egg up to a good large apple.

We notice that Rome is to have an old maid's convention in the near future provided there can be enough found in the State to perfect an organization. Is there any one from Dahlonega or Lumpkin county that wishes to go?

There is no trouble for a fellow to get a handle put to his name these days provided he uses the proper management. We did it with less than $25. The first order we sent off for some stationery to Atlanta the dealer replied to us as "Mr." The next cash order he came "Capt." and the third order we reached the topmost notch—"Colonel." Nothing like it.

Rev. Mr. Parks, the pastor of the Baptist Church, is doing a good work in Dahlonega. He values a poor man's soul as much as a rich one and visits all alike. When he hears of a person being sick in Dahlonega, no matter where or who it is, he goes to see and pray and talk with them, and by this means he will accomplish more in his efforts towards saving souls than a preacher who takes his gun and fishing rod and spends much of his time on the creek and river banks.

Mrs. Dal Lance, residing in Dahlonega, is worth her weight in gold. The other day she used a handful of good sized switches on Bill McDonaugh, who was endeavoring to take advantage of her thirteen-year-old girl who was engrossed in sweeping out the church. Her son went to carve him with a pocket knife before the good lady reached him but she directed him to hold up until she came. This he did and the good for nothing scamp got a severe whipping. He has been accused of everything that is mean, even to burning two school houses in that vicinity. All such trying to take the advantage of children should receive like treatment.

Joe Nath Wilkins lives in Yahoola district and either enjoys or dislikes the stock law up that way. He owned a horse up to a few days ago that was so old that it had lost all its teeth and it guns had almost sank out of sight. This horse could not live in the pasture for it was unable to eat grass, which didn't suit Joe, and in order to make it look any ways like a horse at all he had to supply it with a wooden barrel and feed it on dough like a chicken. This was too much trouble and Joe came to town the other day and swapped it off to Henry Roberts for an animal that could live in a pasture when not at work. Henry was not long in discovering the condition of the animal and at once swore out a warrant for Joe and sent Constable Walker after him Monday but he was not at home.

The ordinary tells us that he has given the 1896 insolvent tax to the sheriff who will make an effort to collect them. The judge desires a law enacted which will authorize the destruction of the large amount of insolvent tax which have accumulated in his office since 1877. The reciting of the... has already cost the county, he says, about $19, when the taxes, if they could be collected, amount to only a few cents over $5. He must take into consideration that the polls amount to a good deal. It does not go to the county directly but is added to the county fund and help to educate the boys and girls of Lumpkin county. It is true that it may cost more to handle these files than they amount to but there are various other things in the county that runs on the same line. Take for instance a jury of twelve men who are idle from two to three days at a time while the other jury is hearing the evidence in a case. It costs about $50 but how are you going to remedy it? So does the registration law cost a good deal but how are you going to help it?

T. T. Harris, who is in the express business at Gainesville, spent last Sunday in Dahlonega.

A gentleman wanted to send a telegram to Gainesville last Sunday but couldn't get it carried for less than $3. This is one reason we thought some time ago that our citizens should take some steps towards connecting Dahlonega and Gainesville by telephone.

Last Saturday T. S. Waters, who is doing business for the Palmer Bros. at Gainesville, came up and remained over until Monday at which time he carried his family down for the purpose of permanently locating in that city. Jake will secure a good mountain trade for his employers as he is well known and liked by all the men in Lumpkin county, and some of the ladies. While up on this trip he secured several right nice little orders from our merchants for his company.

Even the revenue officials sometimes have tricks put off on them. We understand that some fellow in the lower portion of Lumpkin county wanting $10, put up a little nine or ten gallon still in a furnace where there was no mash nor anything else of the kind and then reported it to the officials recently, who went forward and destroyed it, making the proper report to the department for him to get his money, thus making a big profit on the investment, even off of Uncle Sam. Then we are informed that later on another old useless still was fixed up at another place and reported in the same manner,

John Barleycorn never fails to get in his work wherever he goes. Last week he visited a certain mine where an old man and his boys were engaged in taking out the kind of money that is endorsed by one of the great political parties. He placed himself right at the head of the cut and it was not long before old John had full possession of the mine and the boys were carrying the aged man out on a litter so early in the afternoon, etc. The commissioner promised to give the matter his immediate attention. He stated that the time required to be taught by all teachers at this season was from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Is this being done? Echo answers no.

On Thursday of last week while a little two or three year old child of J. B. Graham was near a wagon in front of Moore & McGuire's store a cow belonging to G. H. McGuire picked the little one up on her horns and threw it over her back, but fortunately the child was not injured other than having its upper lip split by on a rock. It was certainly a narrow escape before old John had full possession of the mine and the boys were carrying the aged man out on a litter so early in the afternoon, etc. The commissioner promised to give the matter his immediate attention. He stated that the time required to be taught by all teachers at this season was from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Is this being done? Echo answers no.

One day last week Collector Trammell together with Marshal Grizzell and posse left Dahlonega at 3 o'clock for White county to destroy an illicit distillery which had been reported by some man who is too lazy and trifling to make a living by work. They hitched their horses some distance from the distillery and made the rest of the trip a foot in the dark. While on their way to the concern they were discovered by John O'Kelly and John Pilgram who jumped on their horses and ran through a near way so as to carry the news to the operators that the revenue was on the way, enabling them to be absent on the arrival of the officers. The distillery was destroyed and Miligan Adams was afterward found with still stop on his clothing who was brought to town and bound over. It turns out that O'Kelly and Pilgram were considerably injured by making this trip. The blackards came across their horses which were hitched in a thicket near the distillery, the riders not wishing to return to them until the revenue left the neighborhood, and thinking that they belonged to the officials, beat and carved them up with their pocket knives until the poor brutes presented a dreadful appearance. The men didn't have a bit of mercy on them but cut great long gashes in their sides and broke one's hip. While this was going on the officers were riding theirs offly towards Dahlonega.

Last Saturday before the ice had melted away from the North hill sides some of our early gardeners were planting seeds.

A little two year old child of Wm. McGee fell back in a pan of hot grease the other day and was badly burned, over in Wahoo district.

John Hatfield, who has recently secured a half interest in the Gainesville and Dahlonega mail line, has something to say this week in our advertising columns.

John Hatfield still has charge of the upper mail line to Gainesville. The hack leaves Dahlonega Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and meets the other at Squirrel creek hill.

Governor Atkinson has pardoned John Satterfield of Lumpkin county who was sentenced to a term of twelve months in the chain gang. His father reached home with him last Friday afternoon.

There is a family residing in Hightower district, Lumpkin county, composed of six persons whose weight aggregates 1239 pounds. The husband weighs 200 pounds and the wife weighs 270. What county can beat it?

Last week Mrs. Patton deeded Salem church to Col. Charlton, who we suppose, purchased it for its members. So, now they will have a place in which to worship the Lord. The trouble was brought about by it being erected on this lot by a mistake.

We happened to be present last week when complaint was made to the county school commissioner by patrons of certain public schools concerning the system of their teaching, pupils being turned loose early in the afternoon, etc. The commissioner promised to give the matter his immediate attention. He stated that the time required to be taught by all teachers at this season was from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Is this being done? Echo answers no.

One night last week near the mile post on the Auraria road Jack Arrendale fell in company with John Turner and two of John Self's boys that reside in Chestnut district who had been off selling some cattle. It seemed that the boys carried a jug in the wagon and all four got mellow, during which time Jack struck the youngest boy several licks in the face with his fist. They came on to town and reported the matter to some of our citizens. Marshal Jim Davis went down and brought up Jack but as the interested parties didn't seem to want the defendant punished he was told to go and sin no more.

Some time ago Miss Sallie Reid made application to take charge of a post office which the citizens were asking the department to re-establish up in Yahoola district. Some time ago the application was granted and the proper papers sent on to the lady for her to make bond, directed to Porter Springs instead of Dahlonega where the lady usually gets her mail, where it remained until the people interested came to the conclusion that they would have to do without any mail facilities, during which time Miss Sallie had gone off to Jackson county. The other day it was learned that the appointment had been made but Miss Sallie couldn't accept it. So Mr. James Ridley, who has decided to take charge of the post office, has signed his bond long enough for him to go back to his fathers some few miles from town to get him to assist him in his hours of trouble. His father came in, signed up a note and his boy resumed his journey a wiser man.

Mr. Wins Bruce and lady, of Gainesville, are in the city.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McDonald died near Porter Springs last Sunday.

A. B. Crenshaw has been appointed post master at New Bridge and Hardie Perlew at Jay.

Deputy Collector Trammell got orders last Saturday to go to Rabun county to perform some official work. He left Sunday.

Our friends Jeff Whelchel, of Wooley's Ford, and Acy Crenshaw, of New Bridge, were both in town this week looking as healthy and pleasant as ever.

It is said that blind John Hester and Bud Fortner who were recently discovered in an illicit distillery, have pulled up stakes and gone to the far west.

All those who are owing me will please come forward and settle at once. That is where notes and accounts are now due.

C. H. JONES.

We saw Bill Reid, of Yahoola district, in Dr. Whelchel's office last Saturday. We guess he was sick and wanted the Doctor to prescribe a gallon of liquor and two yarn shirts again.

The other day while the wind was blowing a shitter blew off of the court house, hitting the tin roof several times before it struck the ground, making a terrible racket. Clerk Moore was in his office writing who thought the building was falling, commencing at the top. He dropped his pen and ran over a table and two or three chairs before he reached the door and when he got out he looked as pale as death.

Our ads. may not be elegantly arranged, containing meat and syrup prices in one line and lace and ribbons in the next, but they are all bargains, you will find. For instance, good note paper 3 1/2 c per quire, envelopes 2 c per pack; 4 quart coffee pot 11 c, roasted coffee 12 1/2 c, ink 4 c, turkey red handkerchiefs 4 c, Misses hose 8 to 21 c, Hustler smoking tobacco 4 c, muslin 3 c, ear muff 9. Come and examine our goods and prices if you buy nothing. We will be glad you come.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Clerk John Moore and merchant Will Jones both went down to our sister county Dawson Sunday on a courting expedition. Not to transact any Justice or Superior Court business for it was on the wrong day and couldn't have been done legal. But we will assure our readers that their transactions on last Sunday were perfectly legal which will be shown in a later issue of the NUGGET to the sorrow of all the single ladies of Dahlonega and to some in other portions of the country.

Now that Col. Farrow has taken charge of the Gainesville post office we feel confident that the Dahlonega mail will go and come nearer on schedule time. We are satisfied that every time the mail carrier goes poking into Gainesville behind time the proper authorities at Washington will know something about it. Besides this we are certain that he will have our mail fixed up and sent off to Atlanta before the departure of the 8:30 train at night. There is no reason why we shouldn't be able to get an answer to a letter from Atlanta the next day after it is written.

Last Sunday Nelson Lance who was moving from Lumpkin county to Alabama, was followed by Sheriff Brookshier and brought back on a warrant sworn out by M. J. Williams, who had traded the man a pair of mules. He had promised to come and settle off a balance due of $26, but when he got ready to move he surrounded Dahlonega and was put to all this trouble by not complying with his contract. Capt. Williams prevented Lance from being put in jail by signing his bond long enough for him to go back to his fathers some few miles from town to get him to assist him in his hours of trouble. His father came in, signed up a note and his boy resumed his journey a wiser man.

Emmanuel county was visited by a destructive forest fire last week sweeping many farm houses and barns away.

The feeding of the moonshiners in Fulton county jail has cost the government $3,200 for the last three months.

A correspondent of the Gainesville Eagle wants the voters to don Mr. J. D. Cooley with senatorial honors from White.

Senator Robt. L. Barber, of Forsyth, and Louis F. Garrard, of Columbia, have announced their candidacy for Governor.

Geo. Eyer of White county was captured a few days ago by the revenue officers with thirty gallons of liquor on his way to Jefferson.

Col. Thompson spoke at Dawsonville Wednesday of last week, but didn't have a great deal to tell except that he wanted to go to Congress.

Rev. Sam Jones is also a candidate for Governor. There is no chance for him to get to sit in the gubernatorial chair but the race won't cost him anything.

Mr. Tate has introduced a bill creating the northeastern division, the court to be at Dahlonega and Lumpkin, White, Habersham, Rabun, Towns, and Union counties are to constitute the division.

Some of the democrats say that Mr. Tate is gaining ground in Lumpkin county. Mr. Thompson had better get a move on him if he aims to win the race, for it is going to be a close one if we have been rightly informed.

We publish on our first page the letter that Col. Candler inflicted himself with. The Colonel created war in time of peace and if he gets defeated it is his own fault. The storm was clear and he had no good cause to muddy it.

Congressman Tate has appointed Messrs Ben F. Perry of Cherokee, M. L. Ledford of Union, and W. A. Willingham of Habersham to act with Col. Howard Tamm's friends in arranging a series of joint debates between the distinguished contestants for the nomination for Congress from the ninth district.

Congressman Cumming has introduced a resolution asking for an appropriation of $100,000 to build a monument in honor of those who lost their lives recently on the Maine. This is a piece of foolishness. Such a costly structure will do the dead ones no good nor feed their wives and children who are left behind.

It seems that sheriffs in Texas love to hang negroes. The other day the sheriff at Houston put an end to one of these dark complicated affairs in the presence of 10,000 people after he had received a telegram from the Governor to suspend the execution for a week so that he could be hanged privately. Now, the question is was the sheriff guilty of murder and what will the Governor do with him.

Mr. Homer Hamrick left Tuesday for Dahlonega to enter the N. G. A. College. Homer is one of the best young men in this section, and we all wish him much success in his studies. Our part of the state is fortunate in having such a college as the one at Dahlonega. That school has done probably more for the young men of the mountainous section than any other one thing.—Pickens County Herald.

All the students are making marked progress in their compositions and essays. The members of the Sophomore, Freshman "A" and "B" classes are required to prepare their February essay on the subject: "What books I have read and how I liked them."

Capt. Tillson will make a public address for the Decora Society on Saturday night March the 5th. Everybody invited.

The spring term elections will be on the following dates: Freshman March 8, Sophomore March 10, "A" March 15 and "B" 17. Contest for commencement speakers April 8.

Prof. Stewart is doing some solid work in his Normal class. He has about thirty pupils and is receiving letters from others who say they are coming. Let them come, it will do them good.

"A" Company is minus a first Lieutenant. Very likely some ambitious cadet of military bearing will be promoted to fill the vacancy made by Lieut. Arthur's departure.

The subject for discussion in the Decora Society last Saturday was: Resolved, That the execution of Charles I. was justifiable. The discussion was given in favor of the affirmative.

The question for discussion by the Phi Mu Society was: Resolved, That the Bible has more influence than politics. Decision went in favor of the affirmative.

The Decora Society challenged the Phi Mu for a champion debate at commencement. The challenge was accepted. The Decoras selected Messrs. B. P. Gaillard, Jr. and H. L. Peacock as champion debators. The Phi Mus will elect their debators soon.

The Decoras elected their public debators last Saturday. They are as follows: A. W. Cain, W. J. McKee, W. M. Smith and J. D. Twitty, Saluatorian, J. W. West.

Major F. S. Price resigned the presidency of the Phi Mu Society last Saturday and cadet C. Shultz was elected in his place.

Tuesday Morning Capt. Bell, the president of the Intercollegiate Association at Dahlonega, called the student body together for the purpose of re-organizing. The following officers were elected: G. W. Thompson, President; S. A. Harris, Vice President; A. W. Cain, Recording Secretary; D. C. Stow, Treasurer; F. S. Price, Corresponding Secretary; B. P. Gaillard, Chaplain; B. D. Parks, Assistant Chaplain; J. L. Bell, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The contest for speakers desiring to attend the State Oratorical Association will be on the last Saturday in April.

Mining Notes.

Mr. F. S. Packard of Sturges, Mich., who owns the Turkey Hill property, is expected here soon. Green Abercrombie, who has been prospecting on the Fry property for some time has struck several large gold bearing veins.

After 27 hours work by the boat down on the Chestatee river last week 400 pennyweights of gold were cleaned up. This proves that there are some valuable veins beyond the banks in that vicinity which feed the stream.

John Huff of the Calhoun, made a clean up last week and came to Dahlonega to pay over the rent. We didn't inquire how much gold he made but heard him say that the clean up was satisfactory.

The mill at the Kentucky has temporarily suspended until some new changes can be made.

The concentrator at the Singleton is now in perfect working order and the clatter of the machinery can be heard to Dahlonega a distance of one mile.

Shall We Have Schools and Houses for our Children?

This is the question to be decided next Monday by the voters in Dahlonega.

It is a fact that the Board of Education of Lumpkin county does not own a school house in the town, nor does it own a seat, desk, book or pencil or a blackboard. The college trustees allows the use of a small school house on the college property but it is poorly adapted for such progress. The colored children occupy a house, which though built more than 25 years ago, by the U. S. Government is now under the Board's control, nor has it any suitable school furniture.

The four young ladies who have charge of our white schools are obliged to furnish the school rooms at their own expense, except when the college school house is used. They furnish their own seats, stoves, blackboards, and every other needed piece of furniture, if they get them. None of the houses now occupied are comfortable, and children are at all times exposed to cold and sickness, because they cannot be made comfortable. At some of the schools there are no private conveniences for the children.

Shall this state of things continue? Or, will the parents of the town and community make an effort to take these matters into their own hands? Shall we offer inducements to others to come to Dahlonega to educate their children, or drive some residents we now have to other localities?

The present condition of our public schools is a sad reflection on our town, so far as equipments are concerned. The teachers (and they are as well qualified as any teachers in any public schools in Georgia,) cannot with their meager salaries, do anything more than they are now doing; and if any persons in Dahlonega will stand by and allow these things to continue they are not made of the stuff that I have always given them credit for.

It may come to this in a short time: Parents who can pay for teachers will employ them at their own expense, and those who cannot pay will have no schools at all for their children, for the simple reason that there will be no public school houses for the public schools.

I hope that Dahlonega will have a public school system, of its own where one teacher can do the work which two teachers now perform, and where the highest excellences are obtained for all the children.

W. P. Price.

Note by the editor:—In 1874 the Dahlonega Academy which cost $815 in 1835, was sold under an act of the legislature and the proceeds of the sale donated to the N. G. A. College provided the trustees of said institution would continue to furnish a place for a preparatory department. The base ment of the college was fitted up and after the act was complied with for awhile the children were turned out with no place to go.

Some time afterwards Col. Farrow, as soon as he became a member of the board of education, investigated the matter and a demand was made on the trustees for them to comply with the act. They partially did so by, as Col. Price says, "the trustees allowing the use of a small school house on the college property, but it is poorly adapted for such purpose." The Academy taken away from the college was a large two story building, which is now used as a dwelling, sufficient to accommodate all the children in town and many in the country. It had blackboards and all the other conveniences mentioned by the Colonel, just the kind of a building needed now.

The trustees should be forced to comply with this act instead of the people being taxed to build another school house. The following is the act referred to:

"It enacted that the building and grounds belonging to the Academy in Dahlonega, Georgia, have been unoccupied for several years past by the same and are hereby transferred to the North Georgia Agricultural College, at Dahlonega, to be used occupied and disposed of as the trustees of said college may deem best. Provided, said trustees shall continue to provide a preparatory or primary department in said college." Recitals conflicting laws.

Approved March 2, 1871."

THE NUGGET

DAHLONEGA, GA., FEB. 25, 1888

Not a single dog has been reported.

Dr. Welchel visited his father and mother at Murrayville last week.

H. D. Gurley has been quite sick for several days with neuralgia.

This section was visited by a variety of weather last Sunday. First rain in the morning, sunshine at noon and blustery snow in the evening.

All those who are owing me will please come forward and settle at once. That is where notes or accounts are now due.

C. H. JONES.

It is rumored that John Findley, who is still in Dahlonega, will make a trip to the Klondike gold regions with some Chicago capitalists.

Mrs. Herbert Blackwell, of Wahoo, and her three interesting little children, spent several days in town this week with Mrs. W. S. Huff who is a sister to Mrs. Blackwell.

Wash Grizelle who has been off on a raid with Collector Trammell, returned to Dahlonega last Tuesday. He reports that they destroyed nine stills in Rabun and Habersham counties.

Ed Wells is building a saw mill in the western portion of the county to be run by water power on his place. He also has a little store and is quite an accomplished carpenter and a first class gentleman in every way, and a useful young man in this community.

W. S. Moon, of Flowery Branch, Henry Gobel, of Nashville and James Pannell, of Warden, Idaho, were registered at the Hall House this week. Mr. Moon owns about twelve thousand acres of land in Lumpkin county and the other gentlemen are here looking over some of it doubtless with an eye of making an investment.

Mr. Roll Bearden has stopped his school at Nimblewill, but the one at Nooandy is still progressing under the management of V. R. Hicks, which we understand has a very good attendance. The teacher says that he is as well pleased as ever, but we suppose that he will close his spring term in a few days and enter school at Dahlonega.

The population of Hightower is rapidly increasing. On Thursday evening of last week a fine boy made its appearance at Goodman Mincey's, and on the following day a beautiful little girl made B. T. Montgomery's household happy. We expected Bartow to return to college but he will have to stay at home now and rock and sing to the baby.

Nimblewill district is on a boom. It is mostly composed of energetic citizens. There is a large saw mill up there in which the people seem very much interested from the way they are hustling around in repairing and building houses. Mr. Geo. Cochran has just finished his new house, who now has the most exquisitely comfortable residence in that part of the county. It is said that others are following his example.

The proceedings of the veterans meeting which was held here last Saturday will be found in this issue of the NUGGET. Quite a crowd came to town but the attendance was not as large as it should have been. Some were in the ordnary's office during the meeting having their claims made out asking for a pension and didn't seem to care about what was going on above. If there was a home guard present at the meeting we didn't see him. It was composed entirely of those who went to the front and heard the balls whistle. But when it comes to drawing the home guard get as much as those that went to the front and endured the cold and hunger and other sufferings.

Mrs. Jones who deserted her home in Dahlonega last week is now at Flowery Branch.

James Walker, one of the bailiffs of the town district, is drawing to White county.

Students will find printed letter heads for both societies at The Commissary and B. R. Meaders & Sons.

The fence around a twenty acre field belonging to the widow Holman in the eastern portion of the county was burned a few days ago.

You will find at The Commissary genuine eastern seed potatoes. Also onion buttons and all kinds of farming implements.

A. W. Coldwell and James Robinson, Jr. had a difficulty up in Yohoola district this week in which Coldwell was stabbed in one shoulder.

P. Arthur, of Pickens county, father of B. B. Arthur, who left Dahlonega last week, was here yesterday making himself acquainted with the troubles of his son.

It is really disgusting to see a fellow walking along the streets with two big patches on his pants puffing a cigarette and not enough money in his pockets to buy a pack of meal for his family.

The Mr. Wins Bruce has purchased the old Joe Parker property adjoining the NUGGET office. He will tear away the old building and erect a new one. We are glad that Mr. Bruce has decided to locate in Dahlonega.

Last Monday as the blue clouds were sailing over from the North, occasionally dropping a flake of snow our early gardeners seeds that had been sown the week previous were occupying an elevated structure composed of ice about three inches above the ground.

It rained the baby show out at the negro church one night last week for the second time and the preacher left out suspending all further amusements until he returns. We wouldn't care if he remained until a drowth sets in and then return and announce a baby show again if it will cause rain.

We think it is a useless habit for persons losing a relative to put a great long card in the newspapers returning thanks to all who rendered their assistance during the sickness of the one departed and helping to put such a one away, for whenever we find a person or family in Dahlonega that are not thankful on such an occasion we will tie up our second pair of old socks in a rag and leave the town.

Over in Martins Ford district a family residing near the county line agreed to give the young people of the neighborhood a dance on Friday night. At the appointed hour 20 lovers of dancing—12 males and 8 females—marched up to the house headed by a musician whose music box was strung up in good time for the occasion, but imagine their surprise when they reached the house and found the doors locked and the inmates all gone. It was too bad to treat those beautiful young ladies that way who averaged an escort and a half each.

John Moore has more bad luck than any other young man in Dahlonega. One day last week he paid 50 cents for a peck of eastern potatoes and sent them to the house to be planted. When he went home he found that the most of them had been cooked for dinner. This worried him and made him think of several naughty words, but the following Sunday when he arose to prepare for church he found that he had bought them to keep and didn't wish to sell any of them but after some persuasion let Mr. Hynds have one for 50 cents. The gentleman had it boxed up and shipped to Gainesville in care of Howard Thompson. Mr. Hynds has traveled a great deal but has doubtless learned something by visiting Dahlonega. The fowls were only common mountain chickens that had a coat of green paint put on their heads and wings by Mrs. Williams so they might know them from other peoples chickens when selling any.

Do you need any deeds or other blanks? If so come to the NUGGET.

One day last week during a "run down" of ore from the cut to the Singleton mill the tunnel through which it passed filled up and when Lum Hamilton went in to break it loose he was washed down against some timbers and received a gash on the forehead which was very painful for awhile.

Thursday night of last week "Little" Dan Davis and some Nimblewill boys got into trouble in which Dan was cut across one side, the blade striking the ribs, and John Chester was shot in the thigh of one leg. They met Dan in the road and commenced throwing rocks, shooting and cutting and the boy had to use his weapon in order to protect himself. Whiskey was at the bottom of it.

The people of Dahlonega have been fooled so often by parties coming here claiming to have thousands of dollars at their command to buy gold mines with who would probably look around for awhile and go away owing their board and other bills, that our citizens have become disgusted and really don't know how to treat strangers desiring to look over the gold fields of this section.

Parties who have not paid their taxes should not register. We understand that some who had failed to comply with the law by registering the other day have since settled up and will be permitted to vote on the school question. They should be very cautious as this may give rise to a contest. Let's not have any more contests if it can possibly be prevented. It costs money and causes trouble and hard feelings between our citizens.

A young man from Ellijay by the name of Abbot, who has been teaching school in Davis' district, left out a few days ago after remaining with his new acquaintances only about a month, engaged in teaching less time than that. He suspended his school to come to town one day and the next time he was here he had headed toward Gilmer county. Jasper Rider is feeling very good over his departure as he fed both the man and his horse one month and got nothing for it.

Alfred Huff, who stayed with his brother Friday night had some business with Uncle Henry Castleberry residing down near Crooked Creek, and got up and started to the old man's awhile before day the next morning. It was dark but Alfred made it all right until he turned off the main road. Pretty soon afterwards his horse ran into a gulley and fell on the riders legs who was unable to extricate himself for some time. The horse couldn't get up and there Alfred remained until he got his shoe off and gradually worked his leg out. No one was in hearing and it was with much difficulty that he got uninjured as he is crippled in the other leg caused from a severe attack of pneumonia fever some time ago.

One day last week merchant John Hynds while in Dahlonega in the interest of his business went up to the store of F. J. Williams & Co. While there he discovered seven pretty hens with green heads and wings, which M. J. Williams represented as Rocky Mountain Beauties. They at once struck his fancy and he wanted some of them to carry home as curiosities for they were the prettiest fowls and the only ones of the kind he had ever seen. Mr. Jap Williams told the Gainesville merchant that he had bought them to keep and didn't wish to sell any of them but after some persuasion let Mr. Hynds have one for 50 cents. The gentleman had it boxed up and shipped to Gainesville in care of Howard Thompson. Mr. Hynds has traveled a great deal but has doubtless learned something by visiting Dahlonega. The fowls were only common mountain chickens that had a coat of green paint put on their heads and wings by Mrs. Williams so they might know them from other peoples chickens when selling any.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. McDonald who married in Lumpkin county Jan. 16th, 1848, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in Gwinnett county last Monday. The old gentleman is now 74 years of age.

The lovers of whiskey on Ralston Branch are now being supplied with the juice by a man named Sanford twice a week at the rate of $1.25 per gallon. He has a cart and is able to bring a sufficient amount to make all the fellows mellow every time he comes. They say that Aurora last Friday was lively and looked like some of the days gone by. All caused by Sanford's tonic.

The widow of David Keys who has had a hard struggle to live since the old man died in Dahlonega some few years ago, has been notified by a pension agent that the department at Washington has allowed her claim of $1,100 for her and son. For many months this female has been called "old Miss Keys" and was unable to get a peek of meal on a credit, but now a great change will come about. She can have everything she desires at her command and will be called Sister Keys as long as her money lasts. Her certificate and vouchers were received by Tuesdays mail.

The town registration book closed on the 17th, inst. with only 102—29 white and 11 colored. The colored people seemed to take more interest according to population than the whites as they are anxious for a new school house, which wouldn't cost them anything scarcely. Out of the number registered were some three or four that hadn't paid their last year's taxes. Some complaints are already being made by parties about not being able to get to register that night as early as 8 o'clock when the advertisement stated that the book would be kept open until 12 o'clock. The council seemed to desire the law carried out to a letter but unfortunately this mistake occurred which may cause trouble yet. The election "for schools" comes off next Monday.

Mr. A. B. Parkee, who belongs to the U. S. pension department and is located in Atlanta, was in Dahlonega last week making an investigation concerning the case of Riley Dangler who was in jail here having left this county some time ago in company with a widow woman by the name of Board. Dangler was located by our sheriff in another county and brought back six weeks ago, the woman following. Mrs. Board draws a pension from the government. A section of law prevents persons living in adultery from enjoying such money is why Mr. Parkee made the visit. No doubt he got sufficient proof to convince him that this woman is not now entitled under the law, whose name will doubtless be dropped from the pension roll and she will have to look to her lover or some other person for support hereafter.

Bill Pitts, of Davis' district, is now in a heap of trouble. Some years ago he came to this country from South Carolina. It is reported that when he entered the county he was a married man who left his wife in that state and brought along a woman that he called his own, who lived together with him beneath the same roof, doing all she could to make the household happy until recently. When they came the fair one had a young daughter who too, it is said, learned to love the same man that mother did as she reached womanhood. What a happy household this must have been—the woman and her daughter loving the same man. But as Pitts grew old they learned to love him less and last week this happiness was brought to an end by the thread of love being severed on account of the two women returning to their native state to make a big mess on some other lover of his sex, leaving Pitts waist deep in trouble, whose heart has exploded and is weeping loud just like a boy does shortly after taking on a big bat of green peaches, knowing them from other peoples chickens when selling any.

Elsewhere will be found a communication from the County School Commissioner who has something to say in reply to an article in last week's NUGGET. It seems that the teachers have notes from their parents regarding them to "name them after existing institutions," thus showing that the patrons or blamable and not the teachers. Teachers cannot be expected to do as good a part by the children that are turned loose on the streets as those remaining in the school room but it is not their fault and still they have heretofore had to bear the blame.

A little son of Joseph Rider fell and broke its leg some days ago.

Prof. Stewart paid Atlanta a flying visit last week after "school hours were over."

A son of Allen Calhoun came near bleeding to death one day last week from a wound on one of its feet made by an ax.

Many new names were added to our subscription list last Friday and Saturday. They know a good thing when they see it.

The reason there are so many weak eyed young people wearing glasses in Dahlonega some of their eyes are in weak places.

The pensions for maimed soldiers of this county were received last week. Lumpkin county has already received $3,495 from the state this year for pensions.

John Corn, Jr., was brought in last week and bound over for having been caught in the act of running an illicit distillery by Deputy Marshal Grizzie.

Frank and Hughes Anderson killed a mad dog last Friday a few miles above Dahlonega after it had bitten Lum Hamilton's cow and several dogs in the neighborhood.

It seems that some of our citizens are becoming tired of the treatments given dumb animals in Dahlonega at the hands of cruel people, and that the grand jury is likely to be informed of the fact.

We publish an article from the Ex Confederate Messenger this week written by Col. W. P. Price telling what the Lumpkin county vets will have to talk about when they go down to attend the reunion.

Col. Farrow, post master at Gainesville, writes that he will heartily co-operate with our post master in endeavoring to give the people of Dahlonega a better mail system.

Mr. Robt. McDonald died on the 6th inst. in the Illinoia Territory of pneumonia. Mr. McDonald has only been gone from Lumpkin county about two years and this makes the second death in his family. Better stay in old Georgia where the hills are red, and healthy.

On Thursday afternoon of last week Esq. Worley was called upon to unite Miss Ola Prater and W. D. Elz in the holy bonds of matrimony. After the knot was tied the happy couple left for the country where he had provided a place for them to live. Both are in their teens and have got a long journey before them, but we wish them a safe trip.

The case that Henry Roberts had against Joe Nath Wilkins about a horse last week was compromised, by Henry paying all cost and giving Nath $5, and putting him in possession of his old skeleton of a horse again. Nath brought down four witnesses to testify in his behalf which wanted seventy-five cents each per day and five cents mileage as traveling expenses, but they didn't get it, causing much displeasure.

Last week Mr. M. J. Williams & Co. put a six time local in the NUGGET of some dried beans and other articles which they kept in the basement of the store. They passed up and down the stairway Friday and Saturday waiting on customers until the steps gave out and had to repair it. There is nothing like advertising in the NUGGET. It is read by all and if men have invite people to call on them, through its columns they never fail to go.

Sheriff Brooksher had to make two trips after Enoch Crane, who was jailed in Gilmer county before he succeeded in getting him. It seems that Enoch was located in Fannin county before his arrest. Mr. Brooksher heard of his place of abode and sent the warrant to the sheriff of Fannin county with instructions to arrest him and confine him in the jail of that county. The arrest was made by James Findley, the deputy sheriff who, instead of putting him in his own county jail carried the man down to Ellijay and had him placed in prison there, causing a bill of cost to be charged up to Lumpkin county, which our sheriff refused to pay except that which was legal, and had to come back to consult Judge Kinsey who caused the man to be placed in charge of Sheriff Brooksher by him paying only the legal cost.

The young people enjoyed a dance at the Burnside last Friday evening.

The Blue Ridge was covered with snow last Tuesday while the thermometer stood at 17.

Mr. Clark who has been engaged in the Signal office for some time has returned to Atlanta.

Ex-sheriff Prewitt has moved back to town and occupies the building beyond Mrs. Wier Boyd.

Councilman Wallace after being housed up for several days is able to be out again and attend to his usual business at the store.

Hix's cold wave this week was pretty severe on poor folks and dumb brutes. It was so cold you could almost sneeze up icicles.

George Washington's birth day last Tuesday was observed by the college boys. They didn't recite any lessons but some of them went rabbit hunting.

J. B. Peacock after spending some time in Dahlonega returns to Cochran, Ga., this week. The NUGGET follows John and will keep him posted in Dahlonega affairs.

James Smith and other parties from Fannin county, came in last Monday and made Riley Dangler a bond, who has been confined in the county jail for some time, charged with misdemeanor.

Mr. John Hynds, of Gainesville, left this week after spending a number of days in Dahlonega selling our merchants' goods. This gentleman is a good jovial fellow and can drive the "blues" out of an indigo bag.

We have been asked if the election next Monday goes "for schools" if the voters will have to register again if the council sees proper to call an election "for bonds." They will be required to register again.

Last Sun lay down in the lower edge of the country, when a young couple stood up to be married the groom couldn't read and handed the official a notice of his appointment as road overseer instead of marriage license. Upon being informed that he had made a mistake in the papers the wedding had to be suspended until the man could walk home three miles after his license which he had left believing them to be the road notice.

H. L. Donaldson, the white barber from Atlanta, after a short sojourn in Dahlonega, disappeared last Monday without saying any thing about it. It is said that he had sold quite a number of shaving tickets and went off with some money whether he earned it or not. He had purchased a barbers sign and chair on a credit from Mr. Watson, a former barber, but as he could not carry them all well left them at the house he vacated. He did no other damage here except talked some of his customers almost to death. Those holding tickets can just keep them in memory of the one that deceived them. The last thing he did for us was to put the curling iron to our moustache and change our appearance so our enemies didn't know us when they wanted to fight.
